DR. BASSETT GIVES TALK

Marking their completion of the prescribed course a class of eleven—three young men and eight young women—received their certificates from the high school commercial department at exercises held Thursday evening at the high school auditorium. Dr. G. C. Bassett, psychological expert of the University of Pittsburgh, addressed the class in place of Dean W. G. Chambers who was detained from coming by a death in his family. H. J. Booth of the school board presented the certificates. Members of the class had places on the program with essays and the class history that were decidedly interesting.

The high school orchestra played an opening musical selection and Rev. C. P. Bastian said the invocation.

In the first essay Miss Jessie Forsythe treated of the subject, "The School of the Future." She spoke of the school of the future as one of even higher ideals than the school of today. She spoke of the progress being made in affairs educational and discussed the development of the schools and of the constantly widening and broadening influences characterizing the efforts of the present day schools.

A piano duet was played by Miss Olivia Connelly and Miss Dessie Blaker in such an acceptable manner as to merit enthusiastic applause.

The history of the commercial class during its years of existence was given by Miss Susan Smith. Wittingly she described past happenings, treating of individuals as well as of the class as a whole.

A pleasing feature of the musical program was the soprano solo, "In Old Madrid," Trotter, sung by Miss Mary Thomas, with piano accompaniment by her sister.

The essay "Successful Business Women" handled by Miss Marie Ewing was inspirational along the lines of accomplishments of able women of the business world. In her paper she showed that stenography was only a stepping stone to an active life, offering illustrations to prove her points.

A selection followed by the high school orchestra, directed by Prof. I. T. Daniel, whereupon Dr. Bassett was introduced. His discussion was along the lines of character building. Dr. Bassett advised each member of the class to maintain their own individuality, to make the most of environment, to keep clean and to help keep the community clean.

"Do not become bigoted in religion or politics" he said, arguing the need of broad-minded sympathy and understanding one with another. Then he spoke of the need of training the body as well as the mind, and above all essentiality of building a good character. "If you sow character, you reap a destiny," he said.

Dr. Bassett praised the pessimistic man, because he said he was never satisfied. He spoke of the value of a good imagination and advised the reading of books, even love stories since a desire to read such seems only normal.

Under direction of Prof. Guy Garrett the mandolin club played an enjoyable selection and Principal S. R. (Continued on page four.)

Public Ceremonies

LODGE HAS NOTABLE RECORD

June 14 will be Flag Day, the anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes, as the emblem of freedom and as a fitting tribute to the flag of the nation the Charleroi Lodge of Elks will then hold a public ritualistic service in the high school auditorium. Besides the very beautiful ceremony the services of Judge R. W. Irwin of Washington have been secured and he will deliver the principal address. A committee is at work making extensive preparations for these services and nothing will be spared in the arrangements to make this a crowning feature in loyalty. Judge Irwin's ability as a platform orator is such that he is in constant demand. The services will not be alone for Elks, but for all and a cordial invitation is extended to all lovers of home, country and flag to attend.

Charleroi Lodge, No. 494, B. P. O. E. celebrated the seventeenth anniversary of its institution on Wednesday evening at their club. During these 17 years this particular lodge has experienced a wonderful career. Starting with only 33 members there have been 651 initiations and the present membership is 469. The lodge has had 20 past exalted rulers, 18 of whom are living and two deceased, the latter being Sesh Long and C. H. Chandler. From this lodge the grand lodge has been furnished with a grand treasurer, a grand exalted ruler, both of which positions were ably held by ex-Governor John K. Tener, a grand trustee, now held by J. E. Masters and two district deputies, Roland W. Brown and Clarence Chandler.

TRAIN CHANGES
AFFECT MAILSValky Will Get Early Morning
Mail From Pittsburgh
by New Schedule

TOWN GAINS UP-RIVER TRADE

Changes that are distinctly to the advantage of Charleroi are announced by the Monongahela Division, P. R. R. to be made next Sunday with the issuance of the summer schedule. One of the most beneficial changes will be that of the starting of the six o'clock morning train from Pittsburgh instead of from Monongahela and converting it into a mail train. This will mean an early morning mail.

Much importance is attached to changes at Brownsville. Four trains for Rices Landing and Crucible no longer will make the West-Brownsville stop and then cross the river to stop at Brownsville. The only stop henceforth will be West-Brownsville. This simply means in short that up-river people who have been accustomed to do much of their shopping at Brownsville will come to Charleroi rather than go to the trouble of crossing the ferry at Brownsville. Brownsville merchants are contemplating asking changes back to the old custom.

Comparatively little change in time is made in trains. North bound changes are as follows: the old time of arrival being given first: 6:07—6:04; 7:22—7:08; 9:06—9:09; 10:39—10:25; 12:46—12:47; 1:55—1:56; 4:05—4:08; 4:58—4:56; unchanged; 5:54, 7:01, 8:39; 7:19; 8:43—8:49; 9:33 (unchanged); 11:23—11:21; 12:35—12:34; 3:00—2:58; 5:18—5:23; 6:20 (unchanged); 9:45—10:01; 1:29—1:21.

By the new arrangement there will be six mail trains to Pittsburgh and six from Pittsburgh.

MISSIONARY SESSIONS OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH CLOSE

Rev. F. A. Bright and Rev. Goodnight Speak Thursday Evening—District Manager C. W. B. A. Named.

At the Thursday afternoon session of the Christian Women's Board of Missions in the district convention at the First Christian church Mrs. W. B. Phillips of Monessen was elected district manager of the work. Mrs. T. W. Phillips of New Castle and Miss Elsie Taylor of Pittsburgh, both prominent in missionary work of the Christian denomination in the state were speakers at the meeting.

In the evening the theme of state missions was treated by the convention. Rev. E. N. Duty of Charleroi conducted the devotions and Rev. F. A. Bright of Bellevue made an address on the subject, "American the Strategic Battle Ground." Rev. Lloyd Goodnight of Uniontown spoke on "Our Empire of Opportunity."

LITTLE DEFINITE DONE BY
MINERS IN CONVENTIONDistrict Meeting Opens in Pittsburgh
For Consideration of Some Matters—No. Number Attended.

Little definite was accomplished by the 600 delegates representing 2,000 miners in District No. 5 at their meeting in Pittsburgh Thursday in regard to the recently signed three-year scale agreement.

Thursday was taken up largely with matters pertaining to the rights of delegates entitled to a voice in the convention. The result of the committee's investigation was to have been made known today.

The result of the referendum vote is to be announced and that will likely be followed by the proposal of a new scale. International vice president Frank Hayes and international secretary William Green of Indianapolis, Ind., attended the meeting.

RECKLESSNESS IS SPECIFIC CHARGEFine Imposed on Driver of Car Belonging to Mc-
Kean Avenue Firm

OTHER AUTOISTS TO APPEAR

The campaign for enforcement of proper traffic regulations, led Thursday night to the discomfiture of John Gumnik and John Yewusiak, composing a McKean avenue firm. As the result of one of the firm driving past McKean avenue at a speed greater than it should be and as the charge read "recklessly" the owners were forced to fork over at the burgess' office $12, this being a fine of $10 and costs.

It seems that one of the firm drove the car up McKean avenue and continued across Fifth in spite of warnings. A street car was there and a team. The machine nearly touched the team and came close to hitting a girl. The arrest was made immediately.

The Latrobe man by the name of Name Brant whose number was taken this week for driving past a car that was loading is to appear tonight, or if he does not or does not send word information will be lodged against him and a constable put on his trail. C. S. Hatfield of Donora was told to appear at the police station after hearkening to the motor-man of a street car Thursday instead of to a policeman.

One of the difficulties the police have noticed is in making drivers of cars understand they are to keep to the right side of the street when on the move and that their cars must be left standing on the right side. Warnings are frequent and there has been a general disposition to obey.

Will Play at Homestead.

The Strand A. A. will travel to Homestead Saturday to clash with the fast Window A. C. club. On Decoration Day the fast Imperial White Sox of North Side, Pittsburgh will be the attraction on Lock Hill. The Strands have won 6 out of 7 games and hope to chalk up three more victories the coming week.

MRS. ROUPE IS FOUND GUILTYJury Returns Voluntary
Manslaughter Verdict
Against Her

WOMAN COLLAPSES AT NEWS

Mrs. Lillian Roupe of Washington must answer for the death of her husband, William L. Roupe. He died on January 12, at the City hospital, Washington, having been fatally wounded by a bullet from a revolver at his home in the Tylerdale district of Washington, about 1 o'clock on the morning of December 31.

After almost 24 hours deliberation the jury trying Mrs. Roupe for the shooting returned a verdict of guilty of voluntary manslaughter. It was a compromise verdict. It is understood no one was for first degree, but that some were for second degree, some for manslaughter and some for acquittal. At one time, it is reported, six voted for acquittal.

It was shortly before 1 o'clock Thursday that it was announced that the jury had agreed. Attorney James A. Magill, counsel for Mrs. Roupe was notified and with his client was in court very shortly afterwards. The jury was then brought in and they took their places along the bar in front of the judge's bench.

Mrs. Roupe, it could be seen, was about to collapse from the strain that she had undergone. She was not asked to stand when the verdict was announced. As the jury came in she sat within the bar, where they filed past her. She breathed heavily as she leaned forward to catch what was said. It was a blow to her when she heard the words "guilty of voluntary manslaughter." The verdict however, carried a recommendation for extreme mercy.

Mrs. Roupe was led from the courtroom in an almost exhausted condition by some of her friends. She was taken out in the corridor just outside the district attorney's office. There she fainted, but was prevented from falling to the floor by those who were with her. She soon revived and left the court house.

Sentence will be imposed on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The maximum for manslaughter is 12 years in the penitentiary but the minimum is within the discretion of the court. The recommendation for extreme mercy may have some bearing on the sentence.

The jurymen looked tired and worn after having been shut up in the jury room since the day before at 4:30. There had been no sleep. Supper, breakfast and dinner were served them in the room. Some of the jurors had been shut up on other homicide juries during this term, but this case they said was the most trying one in their experience.

THE FIRST TEST

The first test of the new mail building was made today when the first mail was delivered. The building is a fine example of modern architecture and is well equipped for the service it will perform. The first mail was delivered at 8 o'clock and the service was found to be satisfactory. The building is a fine example of modern architecture and is well equipped for the service it will perform. As the state election in Oregon in the spring of 1888, foretold the face of the first Cleveland administration and as the Rhode Island spring election of 1896 spelled the doom of the second Cleveland regime, so this congressional election in West Virginia this year is prophetic of the general result at the polls in November.

Especially significant is the fact that the Progressive candidate who opposed the Republican nominee in the district in 1914 was found this year cordially supporting the Republican ticket. So it will be in the national election in November. A reunited Republican party is about to win one of the greatest victories in its history.

Though not officially announced the news comes that the change of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Monongahela Division, schedule next Sunday will carry with it a much desired change in mail schedules. In other words the valley will be given an early morning mail service in place of a late midnight mail service. In the past mail has been brought from Pittsburgh on the midnight train, taken to Brownsville and returned the next morning. This has not proven satisfactory. With the change there will be a direct service from Pittsburgh. This is made possible through the change in the starting point of the six o'clock train. Formerly it started at Monongahela. Now it will start at Pittsburgh. This is especially the thing for which Charlevoi business men have asked for time and time again.

* PICKED UP IN PASSING *

A nonplussed individual wandered into the lobby of a West Virginia hotel the other day, according to a traveling man now visiting in Charlevoi, and first looked around for a friendly face, then meandered to the desk.

"Say, clerk," he said, "can you tell me where to find a taxicab?"

"Certainly, sir, to the right one door away," replied the affable clerk.

The nonplussed one became more nonplussed. "Well what's the matter then?" he demanded. "I've been sitting in a car there for a half hour and a driver hasn't come along yet."

The fact was the section was used as a parking place by a fashionable resident and the stranger had been waiting in a private car.

Mrs. Simmons was rather taken back by learning that her new domestic's name was the same as her own daughter's.

"Your name, Katherine, and my daughter's being the same makes matters somewhat confusing," said Mrs. Simmons. "Suppose we change it?"

"O! don't mind, mum," replied the girl.

"That's very nice," said the mistress. "How do you like, say the name of Bridget?"

"Well, mum," returned the domestic, "it's not meself that's ever particular. O!m willing to call th' young leddy any name ye'd suggest, mum."

GOOD WORK FOR SICK WOMEN

The Woman's Medicine Has Proved Its Worth.

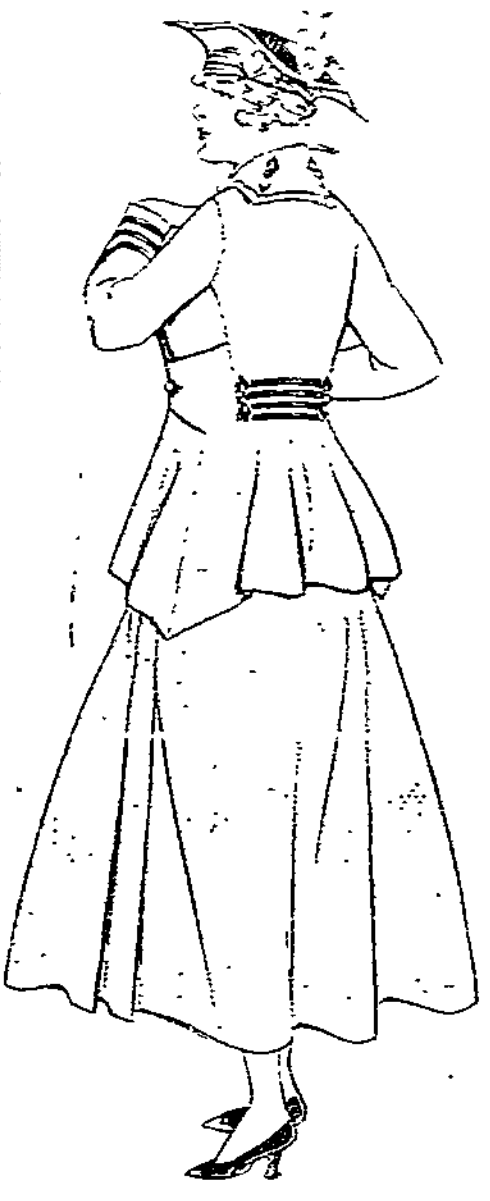

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies were first introduced, their curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of them spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from the use of these medicines, their value has become generally recognized, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women.

The following letter is only one of the thousands on file in the Pinkham office, at Lynn, Mass., proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an article of great merit as shown by the results it produces.

Anamosa, Iowa. — "When I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered with a displacement, and my system was in a general run-down condition. I would have the headache for a week and my back would ache so bad when I would bend down I could hardly straighten up. My sister was sick in bed for two months and I, too, but did not get any relief. She saw an advertisement of your medicine and tried it and got better. She told me what it had done for her, and when I had taken only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my head began to feel better. I continued its use and now I don't have any of those troubles." — Mrs. L. J. HANNAN, R.F.D. 1, Anamosa, Iowa.

ELEVEN GIVEN

Grimm introduced H. J. Booth, to present the certificates. In a brief talk Mr. Booth doled out some good advice in a common sense manner. He advised the members of the class to not always be ready to "accept a job," but to "go out for a job," and when they got it to be "constantly on the job." He told the class that their education was to enable them to make a better living for themselves and secondly, that they might live better lives. He congratulated them upon their completion of the work.

The eleven to whom the certificates were presented were: Mina Brauneegg, Marie Ewing, Jessie Forsythe, Mary Gdula, John Hess, John Jackson, Hannah Langford, Rose Paterline, John Polonsky, Susie Smith and Olivia Connolly.

The benediction by Rev. W. G. Carl and a march played by the orchestra were the closing events of the evening.

This evening at the high school auditorium the academic commencement will be held, and Dr. F. W. Hinit, president of Washington and Jefferson college will speak.
